The Veterinary Specialty Center of Tucson, 4909 N. La Cañada Drive, will hold its Pets and People Blood Drive from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday.

Pet sitters will be available to care for critters while their owners give blood to the American Red Cross. Pets will get free mini-health checks and blood tests to determine if they are candidates for blood donation.

There will be 41 animal-related vendors, and the Specialty Center will sell tickets for a barbecue and activities for pets and people. Money raised will go to the Humane Society of Southern Arizona.

Arizona Greyhound Rescue also will have a fund-raiser at the blood drive, washing dogs for $10. For information, call 795-9955
